

Health and Safety Policy Statement

1. It is the policy of the Culver Archaeological Project to give prime importance to the health and safety of its employees and volunteers whilst at work. This is considered to be a responsibility equal to that of any other function. As well as recognition that in order to achieve and maintain the high standard required, all employees and volunteers must be aware of and accept their respective responsibilities.
2. To comply with the Health and Safety at Work Act 1974 and its associated legislation, the Culver Archaeological Project will, through its organisational arrangements, take all steps that are reasonably practicable to ensure the health and safety at work of its employees and volunteers and all persons likely to be affected by its operations, including sub contractors, licensees and the public where appropriate, and will provide:
 - i. A safe and healthy working environment and a safe system of work.
 - ii. Safe plant and equipment.
 - iii. Adequate information, instruction, training and supervision.
 - iv. Safe storage for all inherently dangerous materials and substances.
 - v. Facilities for the treatment of any injuries occurred at work.
 - vi. A system to record all accidents and dangerous occurrences.
3. Mr R Wallace has overall responsibility for health and safety at the Culver Archaeological Project.
